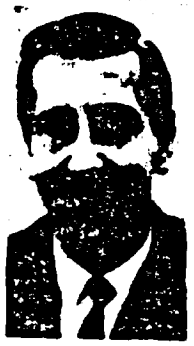
Additional responsibility



EVER-READY PERSONNA announces that director of marketing, Ray Dallow, has been given the additional responsibility of directing the company's marketing activities in the Eastern European Block, EFTA, the Common Market, Africa and the Middle East.

"Mr Dallow's assignment involves the supervision of our heavy marketing investment programme overseas necessitated by the growth of our export business in recent years," said Thomas T. Goodale, deputy managing director of Ever-Ready Personna. In addition to his new responsibilities, Mr. Dallow will continue as director of marketing for the home market.
